GOVMVMT was founded around one basic principle: Creating a true, not-for-profit, public-focused program that is centered around providing dependable programs and services with the public's interest at the forefront of everything we do.

GOVMVMT was founded around one basic principle: creating a true, not-for-profit, public-focused program that is centered around providing dependable programs and services with the public's interest at the forefront of everything we do. So much so, that the program is overseen by an Advisory Council of top public procurement professionals from around the country.

Our program provides state, local, and nonprofit agencies with publicly bid contracts that meet the highest procurement and ethical standards. We help combine the purchasing power of public agencies from across the country into contracts that are competitively solicited, evaluated, and awarded by a lead public agency. GOVMVMT is committed to creating a credible, collaborative environment where public agencies and top-tier suppliers like Burke can work together to provide quality offerings for a true public benefit.
